Johnson's Responsibility for the Execution of Mrs. Surratt.

Question of Veracity Between the President and Judge Pierrepont.

Last Statement Relative to the Public Debt.

WASHINGTON, August 6.—The President's war upon Secretary Stanton has assumed a very interesting phase. Mr. Stanton has been in the habit of keeping a short-hand report of all the Cabinet meetings, and has also been in the habit of reading to the Cabinet his official correspondence with the President. Yesterday, when the Cabinet met, Mr. Stanton produced a letter which he had written to the President, and which he proposed to read to the Cabinet. The President objected to the reading of the letter, and Mr. Stanton refused to read it to the Cabinet. The President then read a letter which he had written to Mr. Stanton, and which he proposed to read to the Cabinet. Mr. Stanton objected to the reading of the letter, and refused to read it to the Cabinet. The President then read the letter to the Cabinet. Mr. Stanton refused to read the letter

MONETARY.

THURSDAY EVENING, August 8.

There is nothing overpowering to disturb the monetary situation, and by that we mean that the supply of accessible paper matches tight, and the market is open to the best names at 6 per cent. Call loans are at 6 per cent. On Government collaterals the usual rate is 5 per cent. Some of the trade journals report that the interior banks will exchange Jay currency to an extent with which to meet the autumn demand, but we have failed to look in those directions. The commercial paper market is without change, and rates are nominal at 8@10per cent, according to Silver may be classed for Wednesday and for the week as steady, with sales at 99@99½c for No. 2 Spring, and 99c for No. 3 Spring.

Corn was dull, and the market declined early in the week, falling 1@1½c per bush, but recovered a fraction of the decline on Wednesday and Thursday. Sales were reported at 34@34½c for No. 2, and 33½c for No. 3.

Oats were very dull, and the market declined early in the week, falling 1@1½c per bush, but recovered a fraction of the decline on Wednesday and Thursday. Sales were reported at 34@34½c for No. 2, and 33½c for No. 3.
